THE TEXTILE ASSOCIATION (INDIA), MUMBAI UNIT

Organises Seminar on

Indian Textile Processing Industry: Where We Stand Today?

17th March 2007

MUMBAI UNIT

Venue :

Hotel Hyatt Regency,
Sahar Airport Road,
Andheri (E), Mumbai – 400 099
Tel: 6696 1234

Indian textile processing sector is going through a bullish trend in terms of investment and capacity addition. Several existing players have added large scale state-of-the-art processing plants as well as several new players have entered the gamut of textile processing in the last few years. The healthy demand from the domestic apparel / retail industry as well as overseas sourcing companies have encouraged investment in the sector coupled with Government/s investment friendly policy towards this sector. However, import of processed fabric to the country is still growing. Indian industry still needs to add further capacity to be self sufficient as well as need to overcome its lacunae to meet the local as well as global demand. The textile processing sector which was considered to be the weakest link in the value chain has gone through substantial metamorphosis in the last three years contributing to the overall need of the industry as well as diverse necessity of the consumers.

The Textile Association (India) being the industry insider/s very own platform, focusing on the issues of the industry and dedicated to the overall growth of the textile industry, now wishes to carry forward the efforts it has initiated year/s back. Growth of this segment and investment in new technology/process is itself an encouraging case study. TAI is coming forward to take stock of the situation in this most important step of textile manufacturing and its potential in the growing organized retail market through a seminar.

Eminent speakers from the field shall share their experiences & views on following topics:

Topics:

- Status of the Indian Textile Processing
- Processing Industry's Viewpoint
- Fabric Sourcing from India: Indian & Overseas Retailers view point
- Home furnishing
- Specialty Dyes, Chemicals & Auxiliaries for quality value addition
- Challenges in processing specialty fibres & fibre blends
- Colour Trends & its significance to processors

An important feature of this seminar will be an interactive Panel Discussion, which will be moderated by an expert.

It is needless to emphasize that your participation in this seminar by way of advertisements, delegates and sponsorship would provide a common platform to meet the expert's from industry as well as the exchange of views on the technological developments in the field of processing will be highly valuable.

We once again appreciate your support extended so far to The Textile Association (India), Mumbai Unit and it will be our pleasure to invite you to be part of the event to contribute towards the betterment of the Processing Industry.
